Useless

Cavo

Open your eyes to a brighter way of dreaming
Relax the moments are kept locked inside
Hold me now as day turns into evening
Here comes the night
All their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hide
And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
Yours are the smiles that make this world worth keeping
Only the ones we remember fade in time
All their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hide

And it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
All their words and all their lies
I need to find safer places to hide
And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
And it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
You, you
