Twice Broken

Jessa Zaragoza

You came when I was all alone, when life seemed just like the saddest song, You asked me to try to love again with you around.

My heart believed your love was true,
My days and night would start and end with you, till one day you left and now I'm all alone again.

Why did you come and make me love you while my heart was hurting, I thought that you would save me from the pain but now you're gone, you left me with a lonely heart twice broken, I wish I never fell in love again

You said you'd brighten up my life but now i'm here groping in the dark I wish I was not around the day you came along.

Why did you come and make me love you while my heart was hurting, I thougth
that you would save me from the pain
but now you're gone, you left me with
a lonely heart twice broken, I wish

But now you're gone you left me with a lonely heart twice broken I wish I never fell in love again

Will I ever fall again.
