The Visitation

Magnum

All that has passed
All that you cant let go
You shouldnt ask
Some things youll never know
Straight to your heart
Just like an open door
Tears it apart
Just like its done beforeThe visitation is inside your head but
No one is speaking and you keep your eyes shut
In desperation, yeah, you dream so deep while
You try to reach out like somebodys lost childEvening has come
Flickered in candle light
There must be some
Spirit in here tonight
And do you know
Someone looks out for you?
But they will show
Patience in getting throughThe visitation, yeah, will bring you nearer
And give you comfort so youll see things clearer
No conversation will explain the feeling
But when the moment comes theres no concealingThe visitation is inside your head but
No one is speaking and you keep your eyes shut
In desperation, yeah, you dream so deep while
You try to reach out like somebodys lost childThe visitation, yeah, will bring you nearer
And give you comfort so youll see things clearer
No conversation will explain the feeling
But when the moment comes theres no concealing
