Eternity

Trevor Snyder

The clouds whisper
To the moon as it cries
Singing softly
To the night as it dies
Dawn is breaking
Along with my heart
And you're causing
My mind to fall apart

All these things that you hid from me
It's my turn to hide from you

I refuse myself to be let down
Anymore by your foolish ways
Won't allow myself to be dragged around
By the cruel and the harsh things you say
You are vicious and toxic and out of control
And the things you do cause us pain
I can't wait for the day to come that you're gone
For eternity

Skin is crawling
With the sound of your voice
Walls are falling
And you must make a choice
Between family
We're the ones that you love
Or the poison
That you can't rise above

All these times that you lied to me
It is time to hear the truth

I refuse myself to be let down
Anymore by your foolish ways
Won't allow myself to be dragged around
By the cruel and the harsh things you say
You are vicious and toxic and out of control
And the things you do cause us pain
I can't wait for the day to come that you're gone

For eternity

And I pray
That you'll find
Your inner light
And I pray
To be free
Or I'll die

Every night when I go to sleep
I pray to God my soul to keep

I refuse myself to be let down
Anymore by your foolish ways
Won't allow myself to be dragged around
By the cruel and the harsh things you say
You are vicious and toxic and out of control
And the things you do cause us pain
I can't wait for the day to come that you're gone
That you're gone
For eternity
