Baker

Ivy

He sits in the car
Walks in the park
Waits in his room
As the city gets dark
He can't understand
Why he's falling apart
It's never too late
It's only too hardHe locks all the doors
Pulls down the shades
He's not the same
Since he went away
He can't figure out
What to do with his days
He's wasted his time
Now he's wasting awayHe's wasting away
He's wasting away
He's wasting away
