Bright Eyes

Dax Johnson

Crawl outside your window
Let the night
Swallow the ember of the flame
Whatever came between us
I feel you now
'Cos I'm the light that carries youI don't know where you are
I close my eyes to find you
All the blood is rushed right through my head
To your bright eyes
I don't know where you are
I only know how to find you
All the blood is rushed right through my head
To your bright eyesThere's a crack inside a circle
'Cos it's broken again
And what about - between us
I take the fault for it all
You're so far but you're so nearI don't know where you are
I close my eyes to find you
All the blood is rushed right through my head
To your bright eyes
I don't know where you are
I only know how to find you
I am so blinded through the stare of your bright eyesLet's play this game forever
Let the fire swallow the distance that we've sown
And maybe I'll tell my skin
To fly up in the sky
To search for you again
To search for you tonightI don't know where you are
I close my eyes to find you
All the blood is rushed right through my head
To your bright eyes
I don't know where you are
I only know how to find you
I know so blinded through the stare of your bright eyesNow that I've found you
Now that I've found youI crawle inside your window
What a sight
I swallow the gold of your skin
Nothing lies between us
I feel your breath

It's on my chest
Let's rise above the restI close my eyes to find you
All the blood is rushed right through my head
To your bright eyes
I only know how to find you
I know so blinded through the stare of your bright eyesI only know how to find you
I only know how to find you
