

Crawl

Staind

I'm so lonely
You're so beautiful
Not the only
One that's pitiful Scratched and torn I lay here in pieces
Craving all of your deadly vices
Like to think that I'm not addicted
But I guess I wear it well And I crawl
While you spit
And I crawl
Through you Here I am now
Not a lot has changed
Nothing' better
Everything's the same Late at night I can hear your voices
Talking shit about all my choices
You would think you've known me forever
Just because you know my name And I crawl
While you spit
And I crawl
Through you Everything falls apart
Everything
Everything
Everything Everything falls apart
Everything
Everything
Everything And I crawl
While you spit
And I crawl
Through
