Under These Skies

Born from Pain

A million times, a million miles
Traveled in my time
There's all I've done and all I've had Ignored the written signs
The price of time, the death of things
Hate to fade the lies
Fixed and broken, survived myself
My heart is bleeding...
Under these skiesThe death of things
Under these skies
The broken hearts
Under these skies
The broken lives
Under these skies
Life passed me by
Under these skiesI've seen the light, I've felt the dark Mourned all that are gone
Lost a lot, but gained the world conquered all to comeSands of time run outThe days of old they cannot last
The sands of time they pass too fastThe bitter tears, the endless nights enter a newborn day
Stood up to rise, true hearts don't die wash the dirt away
