Rise for the Fallen

Edge Of Paradise

We burn in gloat from our fortune
When there are those in torture
Blame will never get us higher
Cant walk away from fireAll the ones that fell
For every one of our mistakes
The steel in our resolve
Melting in our ignorance
And yet we never look
We turn our living souls to stone
It's time to face the truth
It's our warningRise for those in the other
Side, Breath in their
Cries, stand up for your life
Let's for the fallenWhen worlds collide and clouds of Pain arise and shame consumes our hearts
And only then we'll realize
We should have gave
Our hand to crumbling fate
Awaiting to be saved to live againAll the ones that fell
For everyone of our mistakes
The steel in our resolve
Melting in our ignorance
And yet we never look
We turn our living souls to stone
It's time to face the truth
It's our warningRise for those in the other
Side, Breath in their
Cries, Stand up for your life
Let's rise up and fightSometimes I lie here In my facade (ALL THE ONES THAT FELL)
It gets heavy to breath life (FROM EVERY ONE)
Watching the existing from behind glass (OF OUR MISTAKES)
Defeat, chains of anger (STEEL IN OUR BONES)
Cripples us, destroys from inside (MELTING IN OUR IGNORANCE)Rise, fight for your life
Hear them, Feel them Cry
They cry fro youAll the ones that fell
For everyone of our mistakes
The steel in our bones
Melting in our ignorance
And yet we never look

We turn our living souls to stone
It's time to face the truth
It's our warningRise for those in the other
Side, Breath in their
Cries, Fight for your life
Or Lay down and die
