License to Confuse

Sebadoh

I'm not attractive today, I'm not a sight for sore eyes
I'm not an Adam or Eve, I'm just a nervous young thing
Hear my voice strain as I sing, my will won't bend and then break
The crate will break and I'll fall, I couldn't help it at allI've got a license to confuse
What do we got to lose?

A license to confuseI guess I got what it takes to help me make this mistake
It took a while but I learned, it took a twist but I turned
And now its clear that I'm blind, another mountain to climb
Another distance to fall, I couldn't help it allI've got a license to confuse
What have you got to lose?

A license to confuseI shouldn't sound so forlorn, regret the day I was born

Cuz here I am and I've been, I only need a few friends

My hands are sweating all day like I've been letting me down

Like I've been letting me slide, just some nonsense on my mindAnd the license to confuse

Nothing I can use

Bust it, build it for a year

Here's my license, that's my right
