Never Give Up

Bliss n Eso

aye yo we march to the melody
aye yo we march to the melody
yall
aye yo we march to the melody preach to the percussion charged by a chemistry deep within our gut and im a mad bright mad glide bridge in the gap soul swimming in sunrays bringing it back see this AK 747's in the sky but im still feel guilty of never saying goodbye thats why i sit on the sun and watch the storm they will not clip my wings i wil not conform cause this empires built on generation X every brick placed perfect together on a quest, to simply find one heaven on earth and touch the untouchable in every verse and sky dive with webbed armpits to make a difference cause my life is worth more than any business music is my kingdom, rhythm's my army life's a doing word and we link through a heartbeatyour life is hard in these days never give up for your day will come your life is hard in these days
never give up for your day will come
day will come, for your day will come
day will come, for your day will come (x2)in the wilderness of greed we slog for the boss caught between being free and when i clock on and off but that negative realm i leave cause im constantly lost and ride a magic carpet weaved out of positive thoughts dancin' the deep end, certainly tossin' a mix until we chasin' our dreams like beat a versity off with a stick travel a trail of grass roots and cross the seas blue or row the touches the souls of those who walk in these shoes with the fight of a gladiator, i write on my pad and paper with max so i like flight of the navigator i truck through time cant tell where the past leading work hard and use my head to hammer through the glass ceiling and dreams run through the villages to mean slums how can people have no food but got machine guns we dont have equality but got the same skills to bloom some eat with dirty hands some hand fed with silver spoonsyour life is hard in these days never give up for your day will come

never give up for your day will come
