My World

Bo Bice

Did you know that you were leaving

When you first told me your name

Convince me that you love me

While planning your escapeAlways looking past me

On to someone else's face

Tell me, is he all the things you tried to change me intoTell me, does he make you high?

Does he make you real?

Does he make you cry?

Does he know the way you feel?Love is all around you

Your universe is full

But in my world

There is only you

Yeah, there is only youKept me at a distance

While you told me you want more

Plans about our future

Made with one foot out the doorYou say that it's over

But there's some things I can't ignore

Tell me, is he all the things you tried to change me intoTell me, does he make you high?

Does he make you real?

Does he make you cry?

Does he know the way you feel?Love is all around you

Your universe is full

But in my worldI have my fears, you let them out

Now I wrap myself around you like a blanket full of doubt

The darkness burns, the sunlight stings

'Cause hes your everythingDoes he make you high?

Does he make you real?

Does he make you cry?

Does he know the way you feel?Love is all around you

Your universe is full

But in my worldYou made me high

You made me real

You made me cry

Now you know the way I feelLove is all around you

Your universe is full

But in my world

There is only you
