

Sweet Old World

Emmylou Harris

See what you lost when you left this world, this sweet old world
See what you lost when you left this world, this sweet old worldThe breath from your own lips, the touch of fingertips
A sweet and tender kiss
The sound of a midnight train, wearing someone's ring
Someone calling your name
Somebody so warm cradled in your arm
Didn't you think you were worth anythingSee what you lost when you left this world, this sweet old world
See what you lost when you left this world, this sweet old worldMillions of us in love, promises made good
Your own flesh and blood
Looking for some truth, dancing with no shoes
The beat, the rhythm, the blues
The pounding of your heart's drum together with another one
Didn't you think anyone loved you
