Chin Up Kid

Forever The Sickest Kids

Everybody hurts every once in a while
And everybody loses sleep with a broken heart
Good things come and go but kid you'll learn how to cope
When something feels right, be ready to let it go

I remember hurting her and her hurting me
I remember losing sleep, she was haunting my dreams
It's alright, chin up kid, it'll all be fine
There's not a wound in this world that won't heal with time

You're just a boy
She's just a girl
You'll break her heart
She'll wreck your world
But life goes on, the ending's the starting line
Chin up, press on, you will survive
Young love that lasts is hard to find
So chin up, press on, you will survive

Gotta learn to be OK with being alone
You gotta learn to love yourself before you love someone else
It's hard to be patient
While she's keeping you waiting

I remember loving her, her not loving me
And I remember losing sleep, she was haunting my dreams
And it's alright, chin up kid, it'll all be fine
There's not a wound in this world that won't heal with time

You're just a boy
She's just a girl
You'll break her heart
She'll wreck your world
But life goes on, the ending's the starting line
Chin up, press on, you will survive
Young love that lasts is hard to find
So chin up, press on, you will survive

Woah oh oh, woah oh oh, woah
(Woah oh oh, woah oh oh, woah)

Woah oh oh, woah oh oh, woah
(Woah oh oh, woah oh oh, woah...)

And everything will be alright
And everything will be just fine
And everything will be alright
Yeah!

You're just a boy
She's just a girl
You'll break her heart
She'll wreck your world
But life goes on, the ending's the starting line
Chin up, press on, you will survive
Young love that lasts is hard to find
So chin up, press on, you will survive

Life goes on, the ending's the starting line
Chin up, press on, you will survive
Young love that lasts is hard to find
So chin up, press on, you will survive

You will survive!
