Turn & Run

Umphrey's McGee

When lightning hits you turn and run
Leave it until it's done, it's best if you're not there
You probably could you wish you would
I hope that it's understood, something needs repairWe don't believe there is no need to celebrate a thing
It's all the same you'll talk away, no words to sayLeave it on the backdrop you have signed
Blissful fall the winds that whip the tide
Your will is always chased away each timeSo weather worn you'll find a breath
Sit down and see what's next, the air is full of holes
You're due to fall, don't walk too tall
'Cause that would remind us all to care to take controlWe're so relieved you've been retrieved
We'll navigate through nets
You've been gone too long, we knew it was wrong
No more regretsLeave it on the backdrop you have signed
Blissful fall the winds that whip the tide
Your will is always chased away each timeReleasing from a grip that's held too tight
There's no other way to open up what's right
The more we try to stay same the more we lie
