You

Meredith Edwards

If all my good fortune ended
If my whole world came tumbling down
If suddenly everything I'm sure of
Came crashing to the ground
If all of my worst fears came true
If I lost every dream I ever knewYou would be the faith that carries me
You, you would show me the grace
To make me see the truth
Whatever storm I fly into
All I really need to get me through is youSo I can take my chances
I can swing from the trapeze
I'm not afraid of falling
'Cause I know that you'll catch me
When my sky is running out of blue
When I just don't know what to doYou will be the faith that carries me
You, you will show me the grace
And make me see the truth
Whatever storm I fly into
All I really need to get me through is youWhen I don't believe in anything
When I'm spinning in a hurricane
When the world is full of strangers
I've got youYou will be the faith that carries me
You, you will show me the grace
To make me see the truth
Whatever storm I fly into
All I really need to get me through is youWhenever I'm lost, whenever I'm down
Whenever all my dreams come crashing to the ground
All I need, all I need is you
You

Lyrics provided by