Promises

Molly's Yes

I never wanted any more than this
The lovely damage of a fatal kiss
Drop my defenses and my senses for you
And you promise to be trueI'll take the past and the pain
I'll take the hurt and the shame
I'll take the love and the hate
And your promises in vainYour heart is haunted by a lover's ghost
You know the spirit
But you never met the host
I see it in your eyes
The things you can't disguise
When all your promises are lies
