My Love

Circa Waves

I know it's not enough to be with you i'm clinging to the walls you can see throughyou need to reel in your tongue 'cause i know its not enough to stay youngand i'm giving up my love my love to something else and i'm giving up my love my love to something elseyou are like the waves that pull me underneath the days twistingi need to reel in some air 'cause I know it's not enough to get thisand i'm giving up my love
my love to something elseI can't speak for anyone but myself and i can't speak for anyone but myself
i know its not enough to be with you yeah i know its not enough to be with you to be with youand i'm giving up my love
oh my love
