Albertucho

You got the first mile
Made it through but you're falling apart
Forget the distance that you've moved
Since you were at the startI bet you would do much better
Doing what you feel in your partsBecause you give and take
And give all that you've got
And it starts to break you down
Until you have brokenI've got a bucket of water in case you catch on fire
I'm at the pit stop waiting for you
If you blowout or tire I've gotta tell you
You fight like a bull and that I truly admireThat you give and take
And give all that you've got
And it starts to break you down
Until you have broken downNo flag in sight yet but you've gotta keep moving
If your wheels forsake you, it'll surely break you
In time you'll be sold, you might feel cold
But don't forget that it's the path you've chosen
