

American Dream

Jamestown Revival

Woke up this mornin' and thought I was fine Walked in the kitchen, a quarter to nine Poured me some coffee, read me some news
When I looked up, all hell broke loose There's a hole in the roof it's coming right through the water's all gone cold Heater's makin' noise again and the bread's all growin' mold Songbird singin' in that old oak tree I'm lookin' up at you,
you're lookin' down on me
I promise you this really ain't as bad as it may seem
I'm livin' the American Dream
I'm livin' the American Dream I hate to let my old lady down
This time I took her out on the town
If I had my way, I'd give her the world Lord only knows how I love that girl But the yard needs mowin' Bills need payin'
Phone's ringing off the line
I got me a list of "Honey do's"
I just can't find the time Songbird singin' in that old oak tree
I'm lookin' up at you,
you're lookin' down on me
I promise you this really ain't as bad as it may seem
I'm livin' the American Dream
I'm livin' the American Dream (music) Songbird singin' in that old oak tree I'm lookin' up at you,
you're lookin' down on me
I promise you this really ain't as bad as it may seem
I'm livin' the American Dream
I'm livin' the American Dream
I'm livin' the American Dream
I'm livin' the American Dream
