Falling Down

Silent Civilian

Oh fuck you
Unleash the hate manifesting inside
Stuck in a world of betrayals and lies
Blood starts to heat and
The tension will rise
Grinding his teeth, rage in his eyes
Pacing the room
Entertaining the thought
Seeking revenge cause
He's clearly distraught
Dreaming of loading
The gun he just bought
Justice will rise, bodies will fall downDown, down, down
Watch them fall down
Down, down, down
They will fall down
Erase the fear replaced
With closure for all these years
His pain creates this closure for allFollowing through on
This promise he's made
Cries to the man in the mirror betrayed
Lost in the rash of
The role he just played
Something has snapped, sanity slain
Ten in the clip now with one in the hole
Chanting, repeating "and justice for all"
Pulls Back his trigger
He finally stands tall
Pulling the trigger, bodies will fall downDown, down, down
Watch them fall down
Down, down, down
They will fall down
Erase the fear replaced
With closure for all these years
His pain creates this closure for all
