

Two Steppin Heartache

Chris Brade

It's Friday night, I'm walking out the door
I just need a place with sawdust on the floor
You walked out, left my heart behind
I need a Honky-Tonk to drink you off my mind

I need a two steppin' heartache tonight
Where the band starts swinging, everybody singing where the neon lights are bright.
You do the boot scootin' boogie and everything's alright
At a two steppin' heartache tonight
You know the cowgirl cures a heart that's all alone
Yea we two stepped all the way to San Antone one more dance and you'll be off my mind
Best way to leave your memory behind

I need a two steppin' heartache tonight.
Where the band starts swinging, everybody singing where the neon lights are bright.
You do the Cotton Eyed Joe and everything's alright have a two steppin' heartache tonight.

(Musical Interlude)

I need a two steppin' heartache tonight.
Where the band starts swinging, everybody singing where the neon lights are bright.
You do the boot scootin' boogie and everything's alright
I have a two steppin' heartache tonight

You do the cowboy cha cha
And everything's all right
To have a two steppin' heartache tonight
