

Because You Are Who You Are

K.S. Rhoads

Whenever I'm around you, I go home a little bit
There's just something about you, where the pieces all fit
There's a lightness that surrounds you, and it guides me like a star
    Oh I am who I am because you are who you are Put your hand on my hand, and my hand made brand new
And somehow you just understand, you always know just what to do
    And even when you are away, you never are that far
    Because I am who I am because you are who you are
        The truth is this, and don't forget
        Cause my worlds better cause your in it
There's a lightness that surrounds you, and it guides me like a star
    Oh I am who I am because you are who you are
