What's The Difference

The Holloways

What's the difference between you and me
You got no mercy, you got no sympathy
Your soul is trapped and mine is free
That's the difference between you and meI wish that you would just open your mind
Even if it takes up all your precious time
Redirect, earn some respect
Please open your mindWhat's the difference between you and me
Your faults and your flaws, you fail to see
Escape your new find, your conscience is lying
That's the difference between you and meI wish that you would just open your mind
Even if it takes up all your precious time
Redirect your self-respect to someone else but you
Please open your mindWhat's the difference between you and me
You got no mercy, you got no sympathy
Your soul is trapped but mine is free
That's the difference between you and meI wish that you would just open your mind
Realize your soul is not that hard to find
Redirect your self-respect to someone else but you
Please open your mindPlease open your mind
Please open your mind
