

Always

Tim Bowman Jr

I love You always, I love You always, No matter what may come my way, I will love You always

Looking myself in the mirror

Picture not getting no clearer

I don't know just why You love me

Broken dreams over and over

The weight of the world on my shoulders

But You covered me in mercy

And so, I give my life to repay the love that I

Have received from Your heart to mine

So, I lift up my hands and I'll love You always

I love You always, I love You always, No matter what may come my way, I will love You, I will love You Always, Always I love You, Forever, (It doesnt really matter what people think about it, See Jesus I love You, Forever, Am not ashamed, To tell the world about it, But I love You, Forever, Even when am lonely, I may be in the valley, I know that You, You are with me, I really love You, Lord, I really love You, From the bottom of my heart, Always, I said I love You 'cause You first loved me, Always.

No matter what may come my way, I will love You, cause You love me, I will love You
