

You Are Someone

Andrea Hamilton

It starts on the inside
A feeling you can't explain
And through all the struggle
A glimmer of hope remains

Cause somehow you know that you've got something everybody needs to see
And no one can take it, and nothing can change... that

Chorus:

You are someone
You are right on time
You are special
This world needs your mind
And there is nothing, no no
That can take your joy away
You are someone, and baby it's your day

Verse:

Right here for a reason
You're called into something great
But every leader
First has to find the way
See everything worth it will have hurt and it's a cold and narrow road
But through the journey you will know ... that

Chorus

Bridge:

Do you, oh do you feel your angels by your side
Do you see how the things we thought might break us, they have made us
Who we are... and

Chorus:

You are someone
You are right on time
You are special
This world needs your mind
And there is nothing, no no
That can take your joy away
You are someone, and baby it's your day

You are someone.....and baby itâ€™s your day
