Anne You Will Sing

The Promise Ring

Now I'm breathing like a boy full of youBuilt like houses in the seventies
Born to self-destruct in messages
I dreamt of you and me, we were swimming
Shivering, a little bit shy
We're only seventeen forever for a momentNow I am breathing like a boy full of you
And I am breathing like a boy full of you
You know you are, you know I am breathing
And I am breathing
Like a boy you know I am, you know I am breathing
