Your Time

Daniele Dovico

When we first met I was drawn to you
Attracted to your style, your brand new suit
Didn't take that long to fall in love
Built this bond, it became so strong
But as time passes, changes are visible
Work more often and lately you're busy too
Wonderin' what's goin' on, what's takin' up your time
My friend sayin' that you're cheatin', should I read the signs?
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Your time, simply your time, all I want is your time
All I need is your time, your time, your time, your time
Tired of sleepin' home alone at night
Dreamin' of you, you should be by my side
How many nights have I sat and cried?
Relationships consists of you and I
Time's all I ask for with you
Thought that this was so sure
I always miss you when you're not around
Been waitin' for you but you let me down
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Your time, simply your time, all I want is your time
All I need is your time, your time, your time, your time
Your love is so incredible
Need you to know that
I need you here with me, with me

And when you go
I miss you so
Just let me know should I move on, move on
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Should I move on and find someone better?
Should I sit down and write you a letter?
You bought me gifts and a diamond ring
But all I really want is just one thing, your time
Your time, simply your time, all I want is your time
All I need is your time, your time, your time, your time
