29

Plot.

Time won't stand by forever
If I know it's true
And I've learned not to say never Else I'll seem the foolAt 29, you'd think I'd know better
Living like a kid
When my lies may seem less than clever
Is when I fall for itOnly time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memoriesSome rides don't have much of a finish
That's the ride I took
Through good and bad and straight through indifference
Without a second lookThere's no intentions worthy of mention
If we never try
So hang your hopes on rusted-out hinges
Take 'em for a rideOnly time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memoriesSome rides don't have much of a finish
That's the ride I took
Through good and bad and straight through indifference
Without a second lookOnly time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
Forgotten memoriesOnly time will tell, only time will tell
Only time will tell if wishing wells
Would bring us anything
Only time will tell

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/