1985

Crash Kings

You party every night until your body goes snap
She don't wanna be with you when you're acting like that All drunk, no shame, decided to change your name
You lose, you lose, you loseAll your inhibitions
Who's gonna take it home tonight?
Well, the party looks familiarIt takes you back to nineteen eighty five
But you couldn't be there if you tried
And all of the glitter neon signs
Make you believe that it's alright tonightYou take it, you leave it, you run with it and go
You put it in a hiding place where nobody knows
Five minutes later, you forgot the flavor
Now you lose, you lose, you loseAll your inhibitions
Who's gonna take it home tonight?
Well, the party looks familiarIt takes you back to nineteen eighty five
But you couldn't be there if you tried
And all of the glitter neon signs
Make you believe that it's alright tonightAnd you feel it
Nobody can take that away from you
Wear those colors proudly, yellow and blue
Take a bow on stage and turn around
While quietly delivering the sound, yeahNineteen eighty five
I can just see it in your eyes
And all of the glitter neon signs
Can carry you deep into the nightNineteen eighty five
You couldn't be there if you tried
And all of the glitter neon signs
Make you believe that it's alright tonight

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/