Bells Are Ringing

Judy Holliday

No presents, no candy, no treat
No stockings hung by the fire
No parties, no family to greet
No angel's heavenly choirsBells are ringing all over the world
Bells are ringing calling the light
Bells are ringing all over the world
All over the world tonightNo doorways, no windows, no walls
No shelter here on the ground
No standing and no safe place to fall
Just the promise of this distant soundBells are ringing all over the world
Bells are ringing calling the light
Bells are ringing all over the world
All over the world tonightWherever you're walking tonight
Whoever you're waiting for
Somehow by the stable's faint light
Peace in your heart is restoredBells are ringing all over the world
Bells are ringing calling the light
Bells are ringing all over the world
All over the worldBells are ringing all over the world
Bells are ringing calling the light
Bells are ringing all over the world
All over the world tonight
