One Thing Left to Say

The Business

Caught up in something
You didn't wanna do
It's not your fault so
I'll leave it up to youI'm trying, you're buying
That there must be a better wayThought you were big and brave
Now it's the only thing you crave
You've blacked out your memory
Is there anything out there you can see?I'm trying, you're buying
That there must be a better way
Away, away, away, awayKnow you need help but you won't admit it
Going to them might put you in it
Trying to handle your addiction
It's in your blood, it's an afflictionI'm trying, you're buying
That there must be a better wayI'm trying, you're buying
That there must be a better way
Away, away, awayCry to the world you wanna break out
Away, away, away
Cry to the world you wanna break out
Away
