

Starlight

Snowgoons

yeah, snowgoons
viro the virus

yo. i light up the jar
under the light of the stars and write a few bar until the silence dissolves contemplatin if im right or im wrong for dedication most my time to holding mics in my palm my dream has been life long and tho the Finnish line is still outta sight within my flight i fight on and i aint singing no sob stories of sad songs i stick to telling the total truth and that's all its ironic when your raps next best thing and yet some how, yout career is still fledglin thats my predicament

but instead of sweatin it i just keep progressin it while waitin for the stars to align in a moment in time when its my monent to shine

but until then i keep my eyes on the prize and try o survive
night-after-night going for mine because

chorus
in a matter, of moment lost till the end of time
its the evening of another day

and the end of mine
(for your life to fly by)
x2

and Every evening at the of of another day im bucking system
trying to figure out another way and budget what i gotta pay to phone a life time hope rainy days don't last my whole life time (please!)

that's why the moonlight is mine when the moon starts to shine a feeling moves up my spine yeah, i stay in tune

with the shadows lane on the road less traveled lone wolf, sole controller only soldier still in the battle only slave on the boat who's really rowing' his paddle still i sit in the saddle and dip from the hassles others get rattle

and just dabble and dabble

i think bigger, and connecting the dots an the bigger picture
like identifying the big dipper fueled by haters comments and our day i promise that I'll light up the sky like Haley's comet

yo, i hope the struggle don't murder me before i find out how many people heard of V from Jersey to Germany and yeah i try to act fine as tho' all is well

but at times i feel like a snowball in hell

im trying to find my way its all grunt work
got no time for play
no time for games

so while my time remains i wont wait like a time delay i say what i mean
and mean what i say

chasin dreams
night-by-night
and day-after-day
i met a broad at the titty bar called her starlight because her eyes twinkles like little stars she had a smile that could shine for a million years i told her i got a trail of a trillion tears

ask if she could help me make it disapear
and felt no fear
when she said this here
she said:
