Goin Out

Superdrag

Remember when I felt like goin' out?
Remember when I had all these things to figure out?
You struck me blindHow blind could I have been?
How blind could I have been?
Reason strikes againStill I may never feel like myself again
There's a dull ache in my side where you came in
I blame myselfHow blind could I have been?
How blind could I have been?
Reason strikes againMan, we were on our way to the savior to change our behavior
The painting was peeling, it fell from the ceiling
In pieces we ate it, the lead made us all go insaneRemember when I felt like caving in?
There's a broken bleeding body where you've been Made up my mindHow blind could I have been?
How blind could I have been?
Reason strikes againMan, we were on our way to the savior to change our behavior
The painting was peeling, it fell from the ceiling
In pieces we ate, the lead made us all go insaneMan, we were on our way to the savior to change our behavior
The painting was peeling, it fell from the ceiling
In pieces we ate it, the lead made us all go insane
And the lead made us all go insane

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/