The Hive

Cyclefly

A line so fine
You wonder which way you should fall
In time you'll find
The comforts here behind the wallI live to give
The point of view you need to show
Come here my dears'
I'll teach you all you need tooThe hive
The hiveMy mind designed
To contemplate your every call
My brain the same
Don't worry babe, I've seen it allI've got a ticket to peoples land where the Gods decide
Come and take my hand
I got a picture that bares your names
Crush the hive, I've shown you who's to blameHive
HiveYou've said enough, I've said too much
You've said enough, I've saidThe time won't heal the damage done
Atrocities lay half as hung
The door is open
Walk on in apologies for lesser thingsYou've said enough, I've said too much
You've said enough, I've said too much
