Bridges Burning

The Mission

Snow blind, dog tired, snow blind
And barb wired, last chance in the jungle trance
And the fast step of the monkey dance craze
War paint, misty days and dizzy faintKeeping the faith, spinning turning
Watch the flames of bridges burningTurning colors and shedding skin, shining brightly
Thick and thin, mirror of Gods, legend and myth
The fatal charm of the treasure, gift wrapped
And heaven sent, so trapped on islands of intentAvenging angel of the wild and yearning
Stoke the flames of bridges burningBurning me over, bridges burningBurning, drives me wild, yearning for the small child
Blind men cry but shed no tears, see no evil
Speak in tongues and hear you say, lovers leap
'Cause there's no other way across waters deepFeel the fire and the fool is learning
To run from the flames of bridges burning
