

Stiff Little Fingers

Dum Dum Girls

Hangs a naked light over your face
Shines electric ness upon your bed
If it wasn't for your stiff little fingers
Nobody would know you were dead You never really did much living
You mainly sat and watched your TV
I think it had you on remote control
Tickin' over nicely But you screwed up this time
Now you got to start from the bottom again
It's a serious game
When you got to start from the bottom again I want to be dead The optician said, 20 20
But you stumbled round like you were blind
You never saw beyond your own 4 walls
It's a shame you never saw the light But you screwed up this time
Now you got to start from the bottom again
It's a serious game
When you got to start from the bottom again When you got to start from the bottom again
When you got to start from the bottom again
When you got to start from the bottom again
I'm gonna start now
