Pendulum

Diecast

You never understood any given day could be your final one

No room for regret, don't ever forget your being followed by The swinging Pendulum, watch as it grows so close Fall to the Swinging Pendulum, watch as it grows so close until you are goneWe're chased all through time not knowing one day from the next

Numbers coming up, when will you cut the golden thread Maybe it's not my time, maye it's not your time But we should live our lives in case there's no tommorrow

I won't be another statistic I'll be ready for the coming of the Swinging Pendulum, watch as it grows so close Fall to the swinging Pendulum, watch as it grows so close until you are gone Days turn into months, turn into years realize that we cannot live forever

Days turn into months, turn into years realize that we cannot live FOREVER! Days turn into months, turn into years realize that we cannot live forever

Days turn into months, turn into years realize that we cannot live foreverYou never understood any given day could be your final one

No room for regret, don't ever forget you're being followed by The Swinging pendulum, watch as it grows so close

Fall to the swinging pendulum, watch as it grows so close until you are goneMaybe it's not my time, maybe it's not your time,

But we should live our lives in case there's no tommorrow Maybe it's not my time, maybe it's not your time, But we should live our lives in case there's no tommorrow

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/