

Baby, It's You

Ke$ha

This may be problematic but I can't be diplomatic
And I am thinking you won't bite at all
Up to now I've held my tongue, but in my heart I know I can't go on
This can't go on
I've been patient but I'm done waiting for you too come around
It's not me baby, needs her freedom
I don't have a problem
You're the one who wanted to
Shape things, break things
No mistaking
You're not going to me
And we both know the reason we're through
Baby it's you
Baby it's you
I trust my intuition
I made the right decision
Nothing you can do or say
Will change my mind
I've heard all your excuses
But baby it's no use now it's so over now so over
I'm standing up 'cuz
I'm strong enough
To finally take you down
It's not me baby, needs her freedom
I don't have a problem
You're the one who wanted to

Shape things, break things
No mistaking You're not going to me
And we both know the reason we're through
Baby It's you
Baby It's you
I'm standing up 'cuz
I'm strong enough
To finally take you down
It's not me baby, needs her freedom
I don't have a problem
You're the one who wanted to
Shape things, break things

No mistaking
Your no go to me
And we both know the reason we're through
It's not me baby, needs her freedom
I don't have a problem
Your the one who wanted to
Shape things, break things
No mistaking
Your no go to me
And we both know the reason we're through
Baby It's you
Baby It's you
It's not me It's you
Baby It's you
