

Return

Place of Skulls

Last night I lay dreaming
Of days and nights gone by
    My heart was drowning
Underneath a bridge of sighs.Return to Me,
    Return to Me my child
        Return to Me
    Return to Me my childI wept within a vision
        Followed with a will
    Saw Him there, His cross to bear
And I am grieving still.Conception of a disappointment
    In an afterbirth of sin
    Wasted years of denial
    Too much pride and the fear of man.
