

Talking Backwards

Jva

We can talk for hours

And the line is still in gear

We're not getting any closer

You're too many miles away And I might as well be talking backwards

Am I making any sense to you?

And they only thing that really matters

Is the one thing that I can't seem to do When that night was over

And the field was lit up bright

And I want to tell you

Nothing I said came out right And I might as well be talking backwards

Am I making any sense to you?

And they only thing that really matters

Is the one thing that I can't seem to do And I might as well be talking backwards

Am I making any sense to you?

And they only thing that really matters

Is the one thing that I can't seem to Make sense of this dream

It's the one thing I can't seem to do
