Supernatural

Robben Ford

This worlds a tortured place to be
So many things to torment me
And as I stumble down this road it takes a toll
These days and nights I turn to You
No human hand can pull me through
No cosmic force or magic brew will ever doBut I can see it coming
Youre not so far away
Cause I can feel Your power
Surging through the whole of meGod is there and He is watching
He tells me all is well
God is there, theres no denying
Hes supernatural, supernaturalBeyond this physical terrain
Theres an invisible domain
Where angels battle over souls in vast array
But down on earth is where I am
No wings to fly, no place to stand
Here on my knees I am a stranger in this landI need an intervention
A touch of providence
It goes beyond religion
To my very circumstanceGod is there and He is watching
He tells me all is well
God is there, theres no denying
Hes supernatural, supernaturalGod is there and He is watching
The signs are everywhere
God is there, theres no denying
Its supernatural, supernaturalIn six days, the universe was made
(Supernatural)
And from the dead a man was raised
(Supernatural)
They say he walked across the waves
(Supernatural)
And Ill believe it to my graveBut I can see You coming
Youre not so far away
Cause I can feel Your power
Surging through the whole of meYeah, yeah, yeah
God is supernatural
Yeah, yeah, yeahGod is there and He is watching
The signs are everywhere
God is there, theres no denying

Its supernatural, supernaturalGod is there, everywhere
God is there, God is there
Some things just cant be explained
