Lonely Lubbock Lights

Aaron Watson

Well I was singing at the olâ€™ Broken Spoke
I could have swore she came walking in Forgot the words to a song that I wrote

Must be losing my mind once again
Well her daddy is a southern Baptist preacher
I had to choose her or the bars where I sang
Now when I call I canâ€™t seem to reach her
Iâ€™m gonna find her if itâ€™s the last thing

Chorus:
So Iâ€™ll drive all night long
Till I find where we went wrong
But thereâ€™s no love in sight -
Just those lonely Lubbock lights

I was ready to give up the road
As I turned onto her street
But the silhouette there in her window
Was of someone who once looked like me
Iâ€™d placed a price on her heart
But someone else collected the bounty
Now this lost soul donâ€™t know where to start
I think Iâ€™m lost somewhere in Hale County

Chorus

That west Texas wind grew colder
As I left her further behind me
Sometimes I stop and cry on the shoulder
Cause every town I pass helps to remind me

Chorus

Lyrics submitted by Brad Graham.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/