

Your Mama

High Valley

Your mama
Sweet as California
Like a sunset down in Georgia And boy she sure is gorgeous, ain't she son? Your mama
Got the patience of an angel
Quick to love and slow to anger
And we both ought to thank her, we're the lucky ones Your better half is her, not me
And praise the Lord she'll always be The one that brought you in the world, you'll always be her baby
The one who makes it all okay when everything goes crazy
I know you'll be a wide-eyed wild child
With a reckless side like me
Life's gonna fly by
I hope that you realize
Just how blessed we are that she's
Your mama Gonna be there nights that I can't Sing a lullaby to your pain
Teach you things that I don't even know Your mama
She'll hold your world together
Be there to make you better
She'll live in you forever, even when you go
(Even when you go) The one that brought you in the world, you'll always be her baby
The one who makes it all okay when everything goes crazy
I know you'll be a wide-eyed wild child
With a reckless side like me
Life's gonna fly by
I hope that you realize
Just how blessed we are that she's
Your mama, she's something
Your mama, what a woman
Your mama, there ain't nothing like
Your mama
Your mama If you ever meet someone like her and fall in love
Hold her tight and treat her right and thank the Lord above
That she reminds you of The one that brought you in the world, you'll always be her baby
The one who makes it all okay when everything goes crazy I know you'll be a wide-eyed wild child
With a reckless side like me
Life's gonna fly by
I hope that you realize
Just how blessed we are that she's
Your mama, she's something

Your mama, what a woman
Your mama, there ain't nothing like
Your mama
Your beautiful mama
