Reaching Happiness, Touching Pain

Cathedral

Dark oceans we cry, writhing in the misery
Cast spit upon the love that lay at our feet
The intrigue of pain we crave it's mystery
Neglect to explore the depths to sanctityWe reach happiness, divine in providence
Our lamented desires, lose scent of the essence
Shunned is the prosperity, we feel the anxiety
Self inserting the knives in our heartLuring to degrade with bribes of affection
Can't abide divinity over our imperfection
All love is broken, sombre in devotion
The hearse of selfishness has drove it all awayShunned is the prosperity, we feel the anxiety
Self inserting the knives in our heart
