

Cold As Ice

Indigo Girls

I don't think you understand
Oh, the rhythm of my heart
There's a strong line to mind and soul
I feel it tearing apart I've been searching for new words
Gonna make you understand in a different way
When I told you I'd hang on forever
I threw my choice away And it's cold as ice
I can't let go
It's cold as ice
Baby but I, but I need your love And I wish I could have been the first one
Oh, to walk out the door
The more I find myself to blame
The less there is to come back for You wish you could have been the last one
To tell me how you really feel
'Cause when you closed the door, oh, deep inside
My heart it still seemed so sincere And it's cold as ice
I can't let go, oh
It's cold as ice
Baby but I, well, I need your love It's cold as ice
I can't let go
It's cold as ice
Baby but I, but I need your love One, two, three, four If there's a message to this madness
Well, it still seems quite unclear
If I really need to save myself
Why can't I just walk out of here There's a message in your eyes
And you make it perfectly plain
And either I leave your heart behind
Or crack beneath this freezing
Freezing, freezing, freezing rain Cold as ice
I can't let go
Cold as ice
Baby but I, but I need your love
Oh, yes I do I said I'm cold, I'm cold
I'm cold, I'm cold, cold as ice
I can't let go
Oh no, I can't let go
No no, I'm cold as ice
But I'm cold as ice
But I can't let go One, two, three, four
