Fire Dance

Balance Of Power

I woke up still dreaming

The air was static

My eyes can't see

My senses turn to automaticSo I dream again

The waves have reached the shore

So I dream again

And wait for something moreNo sign, no answer

I'm looking at mountains, but I'm way too close

No sign, no wonder

I'm looking at every way to break the circleDance me to the fire dance

Following steps in the sand

Dance me to the fire dance

All hell has come loose, the future is out of my hands

Not what I plannedI'm stolen, I'm broken

I'm changing colors

The veil has gone and so has

Everything that mattersCome and hear the sound

Of silence in the haze

Can you hear the sound

The colors that it makes? No sound, no images

This must be darkness by another name

No sound, no answer

Some kind of evils come to carry us awayInto the fire dance

Following steps in the sand

Dance me to the fire dance

All hell has come loose, the future is brokenDance me to the fire dance

Following steps in the sand

Dance me to the fire dance

All hell has come loose, the future is not what I plannedAnd so I dream again I dream

The waves have reached the shore it seems

And so I dream again I dreamDance me to the fire dance

Following steps in the sand

Dance me to the fire dance

All hell has come looseDance me to the fire dance

Following steps in the sand

Dance me to the fire dance

All hell has come looseThe future has spoken

Words have been broken
