

Dust

U.P.O.

I can't save you
I can't believe you, yeaI am the ground where you will lie
I am the wind where you will flyWe've lost in a place
Where time is holding a sick, sick pace
We're starting to rust when it all is over
We all turn back to dustTry to see your way son
Try to clear your visionBut I am the ground where you will lie
I am the wind where you will flyWe've lost in a place
Where a child is holding a sick, sick face
We're starting to rust when it all is over
We all turn back to dustI am the ground where you will lie
I am the wind where you will fly
I am the ground where you will lie
I am the wind where you will flyWe've lost in a place
Where a child is holding a sick, sick face
We're starting to rust when it all is over
We all turn back to dustWe've lost in a place
Where a child is holding a sick, sick face
We're starting to rust when it all is over
We all turn back to dust, yeaSave me, save me, save me, save me
