I Should've Been After You

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

You're out with your friends and it's feelin' like old times
Standin in line in the front of the club
You're drivin' around town, blastin' your mixes
Singin' along to the words you don't knowBut it makes no difference
What I do, think or say
There's no way to convince you girls
That just ain't how you playYou set me up with your girlfriends
But none of them worked out for me
I'm startin' to realize lately
I should've been after you
I should've been after youI can tell by your shakin' hands that you want me
So baby, don't hold back, go with the flow
I know it looks bad 'cause I kissed all your girlfriends
But that's what you get when you live in a small worldIt's hard to look at me
When you know where my lips have been
Forget, it makes things easier
Forgive me and let me inYou set me up with your girlfriends
But none of them worked out for me
I'm startin' to realize lately
I should've been after you
I should've been after youYou're gonna have to choose, is it me or them?
That's the way it goes
Leave it all behind, all the baggage and dreamsI've liked you from the start, I'll admit it now
Girl, I gotta have you
We don't have to tell anyone about our little secretI know you feel it too
'Cause you're the only one who understands
You're wastin' all your time with someone else
You need another manI could've been after youBut it makes no difference
What I do or think or say
There's no way to convince you girls
That just ain't how you play, noYou set me up with your girlfriends
But none of them worked out for me

I'm startin' to realize lately
I should've been after you
But after last night we're throughRun along with your new boy
Hope he's sex toy
I could've been after you
