

Everything (Double Eclipse) (1992)

Hardline

Well we've come this far, it should last forever
Something here so strong, it's holding us together
Everything I do, well I do for you, I didn't mean to let you down
And if I lose control somehow you'll always know
That I'll come back around, alright I've got this feeling, I can't shake it, alright
Hey baby, hey baby, can't let you walk away 'Cause you're everything I want, you've got everything I need
I can't get over you, no matter what I do, you're everything to me
Like a shot to my heart, girl you keep me going Everything you touch, girl you give so much
My love is overflowing I've got this fever, I can't break it, alright
Hey baby, hey baby now don't you walk away 'Cause you're everything I want, you've got everything I need
I can't get over you, no matter what I do, you're everything to me
And there's a message in your eyes that keeps telling me you're mine
I know you want to stay, can't let you slip away
You're everything yeah, oh yes you are You've got this hold on me, it's stronger every day
You're the heart that beats in me, can't let you walk away 'Cause you're everything I want, you've got everything I need
I can't get over you, no matter what I do, you're everything to me Hey baby alright
'Cause you're everything I want, you've got everything I need
I can't get over you, no matter what I do, you're everything to me
And there's a message in your eyes that keeps telling me you're mine
I know you want to stay, can't let you slip away
You're everything yeah, oh yes you are 'Cause you're everything I want, you've got everything I need
I can't get over you, no matter what I do, you're everything to me
And there's a message in your eyes that keeps telling me you're mine
I know you want to stay, can't let you slip away
You're everything yeah, oh yes you are
